WHITNEY AND BURNS STILL AT LIBERTY

Former Seen In Kensington And Sur- rounded, But Escapes

Amesbury And Haverhill Police Called Upon For Aid

A Suspect Seen In Stratham, But Gets Away---Burns Has Not Been Seen Since Saturday

Benjamin F. Whitney and John Burns who escaped from the local jail on Saturday afternoon, are still at liberty. Absolutely no clue whatever has been picked up of Burns, since he passed through New Castle avenue on Saturday afternoon. If the earth had opened and swallowed him, his disappearance could not have been more effective.

On the other hand constant clues of the presence of Whitney have been found all along the line. Early yesterday Whitney appeared at a farm house in Kensington where he formerly worked and the women recognized him and gave the alarm and he made a dash for the woods. When last seen he was in the section known as Fowle's hill between Kensington and Amesbury.

Sheriff Collis was notified and he ordered a force of deputies out and asked aid of the Amesbury police and Chief Flynn with six officers at once went to that section in an automobile and with the large force of deputies and men pressed into service the entire woods was beat over. In some way however Whitney had eluded the guard and either doubled back or worked over toward Newburyport.

Sheriff Collis was unable to leave the jail yesterday having injured his leg in the woods at New Castle, and he required the services of a physician during the day. He however directed all of the details of the hunt from his office by telephone. Last night the detail had stopped work in the wood confident that Whitney had passed through and got away. Haverhill, Newburyport and Amesbury officers have instructions to take him wherever found and all have been furnished with a description. It is doubtful if he can pass through that section and escape detection. It is more than probable that the next time that he is heard from will be more in this direction for the authorities think that he doubled on his tracks and is working back hoping to get into Maine.

There is no doubt that it was Whitney for the woman who recognized him knew him some time when

Mrs. Kalovitz Comes to Portsmouth with Michael Sebareowicz

Undertook to Take Her Little Son, but He Gave Them the Slip

An Officer Will Take Them to Somerville, Mass., for a Hearing There

The police made an important capture of an eloping couple here today. The parties were Mrs. Veonika Kalovitz, wife of Michael Kalovitz of East Cambridge, and a star boarder, Michael Sebareowicz.

William Mills, thirteen years old, a son of Mrs. Kalovitz by a previous marriage, was missed from his home in Somerville, Mass., during the day, but returned last night at about ten o'clock and told the police an interesting story.

He told the officers that the couple went to Portsmouth but thought they would land in Buffalo.

The husband of the missing woman reported that $50 of his hard earned cash was missing, also a gold hunting-case watch. This money and jewelry were found on them when arrested.

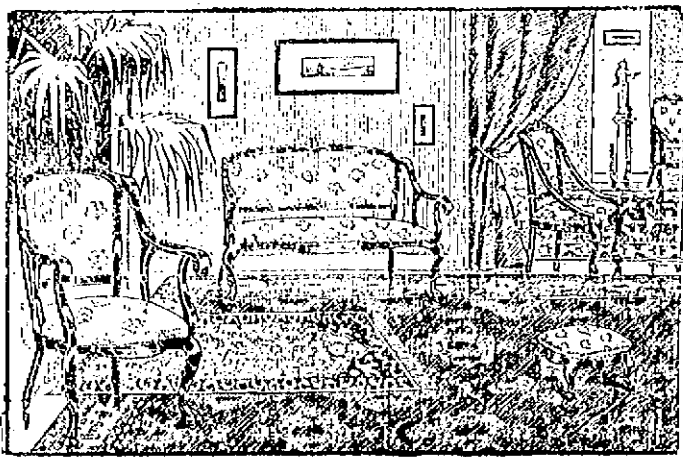

The boy also told the police another funny chapter in the escape and said that his mother and the missing boarder, who was employed as a cooper in a big slaughtering plant in Cambridge, boarded a train at the North Station and arrived in Portsmouth, N. H., about one o'clock.

He did not wish to accompany them further, so he asked his mother to let him hold her pocketbook, which she did while they were walking along. He says he extracted $2 from it without his mother's knowledge and then gave the pair the slip and boarded a train for Boston at 7.25 last night, arriving in Boston some time after 9.

He had said that his mother had remarked within his hearing that they were going somewhere that no one would ever hear from them again. He got the idea that their destination was Buffalo. Sebareowicz had been boarding at the Kalovitz home for three months. All of the parties are Poles and the Kalovitz family has lived in Cambridge for seven or eight years.

The couple were arrested in the Polish colony at the North End and at first denied all knowledge of the matter. Later they admitted the truth of the story sent out by the Massachusetts police.

This afternoon an officer from Somerville will come here and escort Sebareowicz and the distinguished boarder back to their home town for a trial in the police court.

We would like to help you furnish that new home. We have had considerable experience in starting young folks housekeeping, and we have learned a great deal concerning this matter that will be of great service to every young couple about to furnish a home. This experience and knowledge is at your service. Come and let us help you carry out your plans. We certainly can save money for you in your undertaking. Some extra special values here, just now.

FELL FROM WHARF

Another Child Had a Narrow Escape From Drowning

It is learned that on Saturday afternoon Harold Stanley, the seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stanley of Mechanic street, made a brave rescue of a child in the Piscataqua river.

Stanley and a man named Frank Jewett were fishing in a dory tied to the piling at the end of the lumber wharf of John H. Broughton, where the tide runs with much force and the water has a depth of forty feet or more.

Thina Renner, the six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Renner, and a companion were playing on the wharf and in some way or other the Renner child fell into the river. In her fall she struck the gunwale of the boat and attracted the attention of Stanley, who turned in the boat just in time to see the little girl disappear below the surface. He waited for her to appear again and without the least hesitation leaped into the river and grabbed the young one as she was going down for the second time. He swam with her to the boat where Jewett lifted them in and both worked on the child till she came to. They then carried her to her home. Stanley has several times before saved children from death in the river at the risk of his own life and his act of Saturday was certainly timely and heroic.

CEVERA'S GOOD WILL FOR TAFT

Letter from Sea Warrior Who Is Known in Portsmouth

Admiral Cervera of Spanish War fame, and who was here during the imprisonment of 1700 Spanish sailors taken at the battle of Santiago, has written a friend of Hon. W. H. Taft and expresses himself as follows:

"I pray for the election of Senator Taft for president," writes the admiral. "I should have written you a letter, but have not had time. I know very little personally about the United States and cannot, for that reason, give an opinion of my own concerning the election. But there is no doubt from what I hear, about his election, because he is a very distinguished man."

FROM MINNESOTA

Man of Eighty Years Comes Alone on Visit to His Old Home

Joshua Page from Little Falls, Minn., is calling on old acquaintances in Portsmouth. He is staying at the home of his sister, Mrs. Mary A. Getchell, in Hampton.

Mr. Page is eighty years old and came through from Minnesota alone.

The burning of a railroad bridge in Canada delayed the train so that he missed train connections in Montreal and got almost half a day for rest and sleep, and so was not tired out when he arrived.

He served in the Twenty-third Massachusetts Volunteers in the Civil War and says that two other Portsmouth men were in the same regiment, Dr. Whittier and a hospital steward named Booth.

Mr. Page went west forty-two years ago. He has visited the old home several times since, the last occasion being in 1899. When he settled in Little Falls the nearest neighbor was twenty-five miles away and the nearest railroad was thirty-two miles distant. Now four lines of railroad pass through his home town.

He says that his two sons are doing well in the dairy business at Little Falls.

His present visit to the old home country is for an indefinite period. He doesn't know but he will "stay here forever."

Tall and heavily framed, with a strong voice and a clear eye, Mr. Page is a splendid example of the long-lived type of New Englander. Hale and vigorous, and entertaining in conversation, he is getting comfort in his old age.

He lives near the northern end of the great state of Minnesota. At the southern end in the town of Albert Lea are two sons of Portsmouth who have done well in that country. They are brothers, John H. Parker, a lawyer, and Daniel G. Parker, a banker. Mr. Page has not seen them for several years.

"FIGHTING BOB" EVANS IS RETIRED TODAY

Head of the Navy's Active List Reaches Age of Sixty-two

Today Rear Admiral Rodney D. Evans comes to be No. 1 in the Naval Register and will be officially retired. Rear Admiral Casper F. Goodrich, commandant of the New York navy yard, succeeds "Fighting Bob" as the senior officer of the active list.

"When I laid down my flag for good I hope that my friends will be glad that I always did the best I knew how, even though I missed the target many times. I do not care a blessed hang what my enemies say or do when I drop the flag that's flying in there." In these characteristic words once referred Admiral Evans to the day when he would quit the active list of the United States navy.

The man who as commander-in-chief took the great Atlantic fleet of battleships for "fight or frettle," to use his own words, through the most hazardous part of its trip to the Pacific is sixty-two years old today. Hence his retirement.

Few American naval officers have enjoyed the position held in the hearts of Americans by Admiral Evans. They have recognized in him their ideal of the "hot-headed scrapper" as one of his admirers referred to him in a public speech. With the exception of Benjamin McCall there has not been in the navy for many years any officer who "has loved a fight more than Admiral Evans. "Fighting Bob" preferred the real thing in an assault of arms and the heavier the charge of powder and the greater the calibre of weapon the more to his taste.

He was born in Virginia, but received his appointment to the Naval Academy from Utah. As a boy in that state he had some of his earliest battles, and these against bullans before he was fourteen years old. To this day he bears the marks of two arrows the redskins planted in the calf and thigh of one of his legs, but neither of these wounds made him lame. It was

KNOCKED DOWN BY AUTOMOBILE

Charles A. Parshley Thrown From His Wheel On Middle Street

Charles A. Parshley was struck and knocked down by an automobile Monday afternoon on Middle street. Mr. Parshley was riding his bicycle up the street when a big touring car came along on the wrong side of the street and they did not give way for Mr. Parshley, and he was struck and thrown some distance in the air. His wheel was badly smashed and he was bruised about the legs. His clothing was torn and damaged.

The owner of the car did not attempt to make any excuse, other than to say he ought to have got out of the way. He refused to give his name. The machine bears a Massachusetts register tag.

BRYAN DOES NOT REPLY TO VAN CLEAVE

Fairview, Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 18. When his attention today was called to the statement of James W. Van Cleave, president of the Manufacturers' Association, published yesterday in which Mr. Van Cleave for the second time within a month sets forth reasons why the business men of the country should not vote for the Democratic candidate, Mr. Bryan said:

"Mr. Van Cleave issued a statement appealing to business men to defeat the Democratic ticket on account of the labor plank. I replied to his appeal. Instead of defending what he said before he now attempts to shift the discussion to other questions. It will not be necessary to answer what he says. I shall during the present month, discuss the questions which he lays special emphasis upon—the tariff question at Des Moines and the currency plank drops in at Topeka."

Mr. Bryan's notice also was directed to a telegram referring to a story published in Pittsburg this morning to the effect that the followers of Congressman James Kern had promised the Democratic candidate $200,000 as a campaign contribution for his influence in ousting Col. James M. Duffy, who for many years was the Democratic national committeeman in Pennsylvania, but that Mr. Kern had not kept his alleged promise.

"I have never heard of any such offer of contribution," Mr. Bryan declared, "and I do not believe there is any truth in the report, but the proper persons to consult would be the committee on credentials and the delegates, as they were the ones who decided the Pennsylvania contest."

In regard to the report that a movement was on foot to organize Bryan and Kern clubs composed of devotees who had lost money in battles which had failed, Mr. Bryan said he had not heard of any organization on

Eat What You Want

And let Kodol digest it.

There can then be no fermentation,
no pain, no distress—no indigestion.

Eat a sufficient amount of good, wholesome food every day. Eat what the appetite calls for, because that is what the health and strength of the body require.

Then don't worry about indigestion or dyspepsia; but take Kodol occasionally at the times when you need it, and your food will be digested completely; but don't let it do any harm to the food you like, for dieting is never satisfactory; it is wrong to be hungry.

Food is fuel for the body. It furnishes blood, bone, health and strength; but it must be digested first, and you are not going to be healthy or strong as long as your stomach fails to do its work.

Don't fear to eat the food you like for as you know the body requires a variety of food and that which you don't eat may be the very thing you need to supply the necessary strength for your body.

We say eat what you want and let Kodol digest it. Nor do you have to take Kodol all the time; you wouldn't want to have to take it all the time. Take it just when you need it, and in that way allow it to help the stomach to get strong and well.

But when you do eat what you want, and what you like best, be sure that all the food is digested; you must be sure that the stomach is able to digest it.

Else that portion of the food, which remains in the stomach undigested, irritates the stomach lining, and that is what causes pain. Then again undigested food ferments in the stomach and that is what causes sour risings, gas and belching.

that plan, but he would be pleased to have Bryan and Kern clubs organized on the Deaver platform as a whole or part of it.

ELIOT

Miss May Hammond of New Bedford, Mass., is spending the month of August with her aunt, Mrs. C. and O. Hammond, in the city.

Though August and all the other months are crowded with events, it is reported as being a very interesting season. The programme are of unusual interest.

The glass and wind are both about half-brothers on Saturday for the month of August.

Mr. William Anderson spent Sunday in Portland with his parents.

Mrs. Hattie Hapleigh Sterling of Manchester, N. H., as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Samuel Clark is receiving the season of her old home and calling on friends.

Many friends and Nellie Shapiro of Newburyport are visiting their aunt, Mrs. George Fife in a few weeks.

Mrs. Kate Baker is ill at the home of her mother, Augusta Shapleigh.

Mrs. Frank Kennard is the guest for a few days of her brother, Sherah Adams at his summer home which he recently purchased at the lake of Shosh.

The report is once more current that the B. & M. is to commence at once the work of separating the studies at the department crossing. The information is most cordially welcomed by the public who daily have their patience tested by the fact of attempting to gain the opposite side of the track.

The farmers are losing quantities of corn, the stalks being stripped off. It is claimed to be the work of a corn borer. Mr. James Brown has lost a considerable in this manner.

There are warm days for the time. Made more beautiful by the thought that the season is well advanced and soon to become only a memory.

These are the things you have to get rid of but you can't do it by starving yourself. Weakening the body is not strengthening the stomach. Yet you do weaken the body when you deny yourself some article of food you find does not agree with you.

And here is where Kodol is so effective. It digests what you eat and does it completely. It enables you to eat just what you like and just what your appetite demands.

Kodol doesn't simply digest certain kinds of food—it digests every kind of food. It acts as Nature acts and it assists Nature in assimilating the food—it helps Nature get out of the food what there is in it—strength, blood, bone, muscle and life.

Kodol is for you. Kodol is for anyone and everyone who needs it, and we want you to try it now and be convinced that you can eat just what you like if you only let Kodol digest for a time that which you do eat.

Dr. J. Abner Greene, whose legal residence is in Montclair, N. Dr. Greene also says that he will take the stump in the interest of the party's nominees.

THIS FOR YOU

There is only one way to obtain a clear, transparent and flawless complexion; massage treatment makes the flesh taut, the so-called beauty creams containing oily or other greasy substances, fill up the pores of the skin, preventing them from doing their work properly, and also induce the growth of a fine, fuzzy hair on the face. If you would have a face entirely free from pimples, blotches, freckles, blackheads and all other diseases of the skin, get the following prescription put up at any reliable Drug Store and your troubles will soon be over.

Chloroform one-half ounce, Ether one ounce, Alcohol seven ounces. Mix. Shake well and apply to the face night and morning allowing it to remain at least ten minutes, the longer, the quicker results you will have. In extreme cases apply four or five times daily.

The flaky powder deposits on the face may be wiped off after a reasonable time. Do not use any soap, instead wash the face with oatmeal and a little powdered ovis root tied up in a cheese cloth bag, and no matter how bad your face is, or what the cause may have been, this will surely cure it. This prescription is perfectly harmless and can be used on the most delicate skin.

There will be an exceptionally large number from this city make the trip to Lowell with the Veteran Firemen on Thursday. The local sets are determined to have home a piece of the money.

WHAT ABOUT NEW YORK?

One significant fact about the development of this presidential campaign is the regarding of New York as still the pivotal state. There has been much talk that New York is a back number, and many people and papers in the western states have strenuously argued that this campaign is to be the occasion for demonstrating that the real pivotal section has moved a thousand miles to the westward, and the metropolis is only a secondary factor in national affairs.

The practical men running the campaigns do not think so, as is evidenced by their attention to New York. The fact is clearly admitted that the business and the political center of the country is still in the East.

The independent vote is likely to carry not only New York but nearly all the other states that are regarded as fighting ground. The indications are that the independent vote may through the country as a whole take its cue from the business center whence all the nation's industrial activities radiate.

OUR EXCHANGES

God's Noblest Work, an Honest Man

A few years ago when the nation was taking heavy interest in certain magazines one of them published a series of articles on "The Treason of the Senate" in which the late Senator Allison of Iowa was charged as a multimillionaire who had amassed his wealth while in public life. The will of the departed senator was read Tuesday, and it appears that his estate is worth less than $10,000—a few pieces of Iowa real estate, and odds and ends, not a dollar in the securities affected by legislation in which senators are represented as trafficking. And 25 years chairman of the Senate committee on appropriations Senator Allison disbursed ten millions of money.—Kennebec Journal.

How They Do Love Each Other

Arthur Brisbane, Hearst's famous editor, says: "If you want to get into trouble elect Bryan. He doesn't understand how to conduct any kind of business. Before he started the Commonsense he might have found me into thinking he could run a newspaper, but it is a mass of stupidity and egotism. I am a newspaper and Bryan couldn't be an office boy on my paper." Of course this will not be copied into the Commonsense, even though Mr. Bryan is not now the active editor.—Newburyport News.

Must Have the Country Better Policed

Is not a part of our trouble over these yegmen due to the fact that we are seeking to police our cities and towns—the latter more especially—by methods long outworn? It seems to us quite possible that the constabulary of this country has not developed in proportion to the changing character of our population. The latter has changed almost 75 per cent in New England cities during the past twenty-five years, but the general scope and organization of the police system remains as it was. Just how the changes ought to be made we are not clear; but it becomes increasingly evident that, as our population becomes more and more European in its character, we must regulate it more and more strictly. Too many of our recent immigrants have no training in the way of properly utilizing personal liberty; and by so much the general public cannot be trusted as far as once was the case to follow broad general lines of law-abidingness unwavering. We of this country have never been forced to live under the strict police surveillance that prevails in European cities and have always disliked it. But are we not beginning to understand why it prevails? And may we not have to come to it for the same reason that band-infested districts have found imperative? Just how safe is it, today, for an unescorted woman to drive in our unfrequented country roads?—Lowell Courier-Observer.

Among the sincere mourners at the death of the late secretary of state, John Hay, there were none who felt more keenly the loss of a friend than did the Jews. They have not forgotten. The other day, at a convention of the Independent Order B'nai B'rith, resolutions were adopted to erect in Washington a suitable monument to Mr. Hay. The thing for which the Jews venerate the great secretary's memory in his action at the time when the Kiebof managers stirred the whole world to horror. The B'nai B'rith requested Mr. Hay to forward a petition to the Russian government; and although Mr. Hay was definitely, but unofficially, informed that it could not be received, he went ahead, and the representations he made are believed to have done much to check the massacres.

The Telford and Sagan mansion, with its magnificent garden in the rue Domitienne, has been sold to a Paris antiquary, Mme. Anna Gould, now the wife of Prince de Sagan, is just too late to save Prince de Sagan's property, but suggests the Boston Herald, perhaps such a trifle as this famous residence does not interest her. It was in this garden that the late Princess de Sagan, mother of Anna's second husband, gave that memorable garden party, which the prince of Wales, who is now King Edward VII., attended.

Robert Vernon Harcourt, who was elected to the British parliament to succeed John Morley, elevated to the peerage, is half-American. His mother, the second wife of the late Sir William Harcourt, was the daughter of John Lathrop Motley, the historian of the Netherlands. There are in parliament a number of other Englishmen with American mothers, not the least conspicuous of whom is Winston Churchill, grandson of the late Leonard Jerome of New York.

Many of the colleges and universities are in no wise towns. Leland Stanford is the largest non-sectarian institution to enforce prohibition within the university domain. Intoxicants are forbidden in boarding houses and fraternity buildings. Similar proper restriction has long obtained at several colleges which are under the control or influence of the churches.

The fact that the end of the world has been predicted for 1911 will not discourage the people who like to pick presidential possibilities, and they are not expected to forego the pleasure of selecting candidates for 1912.

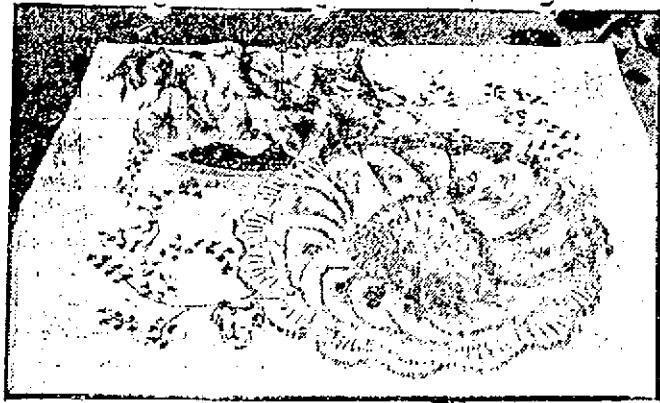

A woman lecturer in Boston speaks at men for wearing starched collars. She is unreasonable. Lots of collars are only starched when they come from the laundry, not after they are on awhile.

The order of the shah that one's rascals' house be demolished every day shows a considerate moderation that would seem amazing to some of his predecessors.

"I do not see how a woman can have the face to wear a director's gown," says Anthony Comstock. It isn't the face that counts in that case, Tony.

Good Things To Eat

NUMBER EIGHTEEN

PLAIN CUCUMBER SALAD.

The peculiar flavor of cucumbers places them high in favor as a salad. The common way to serve them is to have them as cold and crisp as possible, yet there are others who prefer to slice them thin and wring in a piece of cheese cloth. The popular taste prefers, however, to have them come to the table either on a bed of cracked ice or arranged round a piece of ice, which keeps them well chilled.

Never buy a wilted cucumber expecting to bring back its freshness by soaking it in water. If you go to market it is easy to tell by pressure whether they are crisp, or yielding like a piece of cork; leave them if they are in the latter stage.

Cut generously from the stem end, and do not be too stingy in the paring for next the peel has the most bitter quality. Do not let sliced cucumbers stand after being sprinkled with salt as it will draw out the water and make them tough and indigestible.

Do many tastes a little pinch of onion is a great addition to cucumber salad, French dressing is usually preferred, but plain vinegar, salt and pepper make a good dressing. Use medium-sized cucumbers for salad, those two to three inches long for pickling and the full grown, but not ripe, for stuffing, stewing and for catsup and sweet pickle.

PRESIDENT HAS MANY VISITORS AT OYSTER BAY

Representative Of Filipinos Asks Him To Interfere In Favor Of Natives

Candidate Taft Preparing A Speech To The South To Be Delivered In Virginia

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 18.—New York state politics were again under discussion at Sagamore Hill Monday. Among the President's early callers were John McCullough of New York city, formerly chief of police there, and Lindsay Donelson, a magazine writer.

Mr. Donelson, the President entered the Secretary of the Treasury, Corbett, Congressman J. Sloan Fassett of Buffalo, N. Y., Senator Quizon, a prominent Filipino, and his interpreter, Senator Escamilla, and Stephen H. Olin of New York, a member of the executive committee on international confederation.

Senator Quizon, who is the leader of the majority in the Philippine legislature, said he had come to see if the President could get something to stop the American invasion of the Philippines.

"The Americans are developing the island rapidly," he said, "but they are doing it at the expense of the Filipinos. In fact, they are grabbing every concession in sight and the natives are getting little or nothing."

"I was deputized to come to America and talk the matter over with President Roosevelt in the hope that something would be done to preserve some of the important concessions of the islands for the natives. Unless something is done soon, my countrymen will be left entirely in the cold. I feel sure, however, that the President will be able to do something."

Later in the afternoon Assistant Secretary of the Navy Newberry will be the guest of the President. Mr. Newberry has been at Gardner's Bar witnessing the maneuvers of the navy militia of the states of New York, Connecticut and Massachusetts. He will tell the President of the observations he made of the state naval men.

OPINIONS OF THE PEOPLE

Take Care of the Laborers

Editor of the Herald:—Now that we are to go ahead with the work on the public playgrounds and have the work done by foreign laborers, I think it would expedite the work to a great extent if the city government would erect tents on the grounds to quarter the laborers and in order to carry out the great rush on this job have a day and night crew and feed them on the grounds. When stormy and the men cannot work have a little vaudeville show on the

On the evening train Republican National Treasurer Sheldon is expected. He remained at Sagamore Hill over night.

Address to the South Is Plan of Judge Taft

Hot Springs, Va., Aug. 18.—Mr. Taft started yesterday on the speech which he will deliver before the Virginians here on Friday. This speech will be in the nature of an address to the entire South and will make the opening of the campaign in the Southern states in which the Republicans think they have a chance this year.

It is possible also that Mr. Taft will incorporate in this speech a reply to some of the claims that Mr. Bryan said in his speech of acceptance, although it is his desire to avoid as far as possible a personal controversy.

Mr. Taft has received a letter from Charles D. McGuffey of Chattanooga in which he said:

"You have, of course been receiving all sorts of good wishes from your countrymen; perhaps you will be interested in some from beyond the water. Admiral Cervera, so dear to all of us from his treatment of Hobson, writes me from Puerto Real as follows:

"I pray for the election of Senator Taft for President. I should have written you a letter, but have not had time. I know very little personally about the United States, and cannot for that reason give an opinion of my own concerning the election. But there is no doubt from what I hear about his election, because he is a very distinguished man."

"The admiral is a man I wish you could meet. You would like him."

A NEW COUNCIL INSTITUTED

State Grand Deputy John C. Dolan of the Knights of Columbus, has returned from New York, N. H., where he has instituted a new Council on Saturday night. This is the ninth council in the state and it started with fifty charter members. The degree work was given under the direction of Dr. Duffie of Keene.

There were three deaths and one funeral on the police blotter last night.

he worked on a farm in Kensington near the Amesbury line. He knows every foot of this section of the country and will be a hard man to locate, although at one time yesterday the authorities were confident that they had him landed.

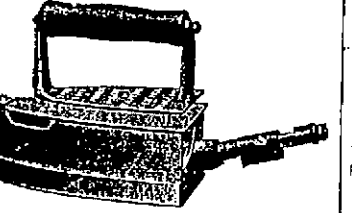

So far no bicycle has been reported missing which will be the first "clue" expected of the presence of Burns. He is known though to have got to the railroad and to have caught a freight out of town. Monday afternoon a suspicious "looking character" was seen at Stratham and when he saw that he was being watched he took refuge in a corn field, and when a search was made he escaped to the woods and has not been seen since. He is said to resemble Whitney's description.

Another story came from South Groveland last night that Whitney and Stubbins a boy in that town, his residence in the town would have been possible, but the other part of the story was wrong.

Sheriff Collis is satisfied that the identification of Whitney by Mr. Evans of Kensington is correct and that Whitney is in that vicinity. He has a large number of men out today covering the territory between here and Amesbury and thinks that it will be difficult for the well known horse thief to escape through the network drawn about him.
